Captain Michael Behrends,

I have reviewed the internal investigation (ICE SO 18-022118) regarding allegations of the possible misappropriation of a VCSO owned television by Sgt. Rick Alvarado.

Here is the summary of the events:

As a result of Hurricane Harvey, the basement of the Old Jail was flooded. This is the location of the SWAT Room. Because of flooding, the SWAT team members had to remove all of the SWAT equipment from their normal location of storage.

At first, Sgt. Alvarado had a television relocated to his office in CID. At some point Alvarado took the television to his house. This is when others questioned the intent of Alvarado's moving of the television from a county facility to a personal residence.

After this allegation was brought to his attention, Sgt. Alvarado brought the television and placed it in the newly acquired SWAT facility.

The following are the facts and findings:

Sgt. Alvarado did take the television to his residence. However, Alvarado had other SWAT items at his house since the storm as a result of two factors. The first was that we had no authorization at the time to utilize any other county facility for relocation of SWAT. This created a necessity for SWAT members to keep the SWAT equipment at whatever location was convenient and secure. Many chose their residences for this purpose. The second factor is that due to convenience and/or necessity, SWAT team members often take assigned property home for storage for safekeeping or otherwise.

The investigation was instigated by Jenni Wright. Wright was once an Investigator for the VCSO and now serves as a part-time dispatcher for us while working full-time at the Hope of South Texas. She is still closely tied to the VCSO and knows how to generate an internal investigation should she believe that something improper has taken place. Instead, Wright made casual mention of her concern to Sgt. Kouba. During Kouba's statement, he wrote that he "did wonder" about Wright's intentions, because she mentioned to him that if Sgt. Alvarado was gone there might be a chance of her returning to work as a Sgt. Investigator for the VCSO.

Sgt. Alvarado returned the television to the VCSO after we received permission from the County Judge to utilize the old fire station as the new SWAT facility. I went over to inspect work being done at the location and noticed that the television was in the armory of the building. The television was in the box that it was originally sold in.

For the following reasons, I find no evidence that Sgt. Alvarado committed any policy or legal violations:

- The television served no practical purpose in Sgt. Alvarado's office. His office is of very limited space. Therefore, it is not practical for him to retain the television in his office space when it would be in the way and we would not approve of him watching television while he is supposed to be conducting business on behalf of the Office.
- Sgt. Alvarado possessed thousands of dollars worth of other SWAT related equipment at his house. This is not uncommon during such situations. The only reason anyone brought the television up is because it was utilized in CID during the immediate aftermath of Hurricane Harvey. Nobody suspected Alvarado of attempting to misappropriate any of the other items he still has at his residence.
- The motive of the person who began this investigation is questionable because of her own words and desire to see an opening in the division in which Sgt. Alvarado is assigned.
- When Sgt. Alvarado returned the television, it was in the original box. Had Sgt. Alvarado intended on retaining the television for personal use at his house, he would not have had a need to retain the box. The only use for the box is to move it from one location to another without risking damage. If we assume that Sgt. Alvarado intends to return the other SWAT equipment he possesses at his residence (which we do), we must accept the above information as prima facie of his intent to return the television as well.

My main point of concern regarding this investigation is that the incident became the focus of much speculative discussion in CID. For a body that is supposed to conduct business based off of facts, assumption became a distracting topic of conversation. This leads to a loss of productive time and a loss of trust between members of the unit, which must work closely together in order to effectively conduct pro-active investigations into criminal matters. Internal investigations should not be discussed as a matter of both policy and professionalism.

On or about 02/22/2018 I received a phone call from a VCSO employee. They told me they had been told by someone in CID That Rick Alvarado had taken a seized TV home. I was told it was the TV used in CID during hurricane Harvey. I was told the TV had possibly come from the Tire Shop raid. I was also told an employee saw Inv Rick Alvarado taking the TV and questioned him about it. He told this employee he was taking it home.

I told the caller I remembered seeing the TV in a box setting on the floor of Inv Alvarado's office after the hurricane. I told the caller I did not know where the TV came from but I would check into it.

After receiving this call I called the Sheriff and informed him of what I had been told. He told me to follow up on the information.

After speaking to the Sheriff I called and spoke to SCU Richard Martin. SCU Martin was involved I the Tire Shop raid. I explained to him what I had been told and asked if he could check the inventory to make sure all the TV's were there. SCU Martin told me he would check it the next day and let me know what he finds.

SCU Martin conducted an inventory and found all the TV's at the locations. He did tell me that former SCU Sgt Quintin Moses might know where the TV came from. SCU Martin spoke to Quintin and he said he didn't know where the TV came from but knew Inv Alvarado had gotten from somewhere in the building.

On 02/27/2018 I received information Investigator Gregg Kouba had confronted Inv Alvarado about the TV. I contacted Gregg and asked him to meet me in the parking lot of the VCSO. I asked him about his conversation with Inv Alvarado and he thought I might be joking. I explained to him I had been looking into the incident for over a week and needed to know what they talked about. Gregg told me he had heard Rick had taken the TV home so he went to him and told him he needed to bring the TV back before it ruined his career. He said Rick told him he would bring it back this night, 02/27/2018.

On 04/24/2018 at 10:50 I ended the internal investigation, ICE SO 18-0222181. I spoke to everyone involved. No one knew whether or not the TV was taken in a malicious way. Not everyone interviewed knew the TV ws missing until the two CID investigators confronted Inv Alvarado at the SWAT building in front of other VCSO personnel.

When interviewed Inv Alvarado denied taking the TV for personal use. He did admit it was not the best decision to take the TV home for storage but felt it was better than leaving the TV in the old SWAT room that was being demolished due to hurricane damage.

Please see all attached statements and TEXT messages.

Based on all the information provided by the witnesses I checked and found the following (possible) policy violations.

Rules of Conduct
K. Conduct unbecoming
3. Misuse of government funds or property

Accountability
III. General Reason for Disciplinary Action: An officer or civilian employee may be disciplined or terminated for a number of reasons including, but not limited to:

N. Theft, attempted theft, misappropriation, or willful damage to property

After leaving the office I received another call and was told the TV was at Rick's house and he had it in his game room. I was also told the TV may have come from the SWAT room.

On 02/28/2018 I went to the SWAT room and checked the area for the TV with Quarter Master Donna Andres. We did not locate the TV. We did locate two TVs in the old JOIC office that are on our inventory. I also looked into Rick's office in CID and the TV was not there.

After checking the SWAT room I asked the Quarter Master if she had the TV's listed on her inventory. She told me she might have some but not all the TV's. I asked her to check her inventory. After speaking to her I went to CFO Brandy Jones and asked her if she might have a list of all the TV's purchased by the VCSO. She told me she would check.

Later this date CFO Jones came to my office with a list of the TV's she had. She gave me copies of the paperwork.

Also on this date Chief Deputy Boyd and I went back to the SWAT room to see if the TV had been returned but did not locate a TV.

On 04/04/2018 at 08:20 I took possession of Inv Rick Alvarado's personal phone that has the county SIM card in it. The phone will be processed by Inv Dan Boots.

At 08:45 I gave the phone to Inv. Boots for processing. I explained to Inv. Boots the phone was Rick's personal phone but had the county SIM card in it. Inv. Boots asked where the county cell phone was. He said it needed to be dumped as well.

I checked with the Quarter Master Donna Andres and she has the county phone that was assigned to Inv Rick Alvarado. She will give me the phone, this date, as soon as she gets back in her office.

At 13:30 I went to the Quarter Master Donna Andres and retrieved Inv Gregg Kouba's old phone that Inv Rick Alvarado had been using. While in her office I called Inv. Boots and asked about the other phone and he told me Rick had already picked it up. Inv Boots told me the phone had been dumped and he had the information. He told me he would get the info to me as soon as he gets back into the office.

At 15:00 I went Brandy Jones office to ask about cameras for the jail. She handed me a phone that had been originally assigned to Inv Alvarado. This phone will be processed as well.

On 04/05/2018 I received the cell phone dump from Inv Dan Boots. I took the disc to my office and began going through the information. There were approximately 5900 pictures. I checked the photos and none were of any importance to this investigation.

I did go through the text messages and printed out the ones that were related to this investigation. (See attached messages)

Multiple investigators have commented to Inv Alvarado about the TV incident. Inv. Greg Kouba actually has made jokes about the TV incident. These have been highlighted and attached. The comments have all been made after he was informed of the investigation.

The one incident Inv. Kouba refers to Inv Alvarado as "lil ricky" and a "short bald headed Mexican wearing a hoodie". In this conversation he refers to the short bald headed Mexican taking TV's out of the CID offices and he then tells all in the group text to lock their doors because he will come back and take their DVD players next.

Prior to the phone dump I had requested written statements from SCU Richard Martin, Quarter Master Donna Andres, Investigators Angela Martinez, Roman Goodwine, Dan Boots and Gregg Kouba. I also requested a written statement from Jenni Wright.

Jenni Wright on March 07, 2018 wrote that she was working during the Hurricane and remembered a TV being brought over from across the street to be watched in CID. She remembered seeing the TV in a box in Inv Alvarado's office.

She also wrote in the last couple of months she was working as a TCO and observed Inv Alvarado leaving with the TV. She said she joked with him about taking the TV and asked if he was going to hang it up and he said no. He told her he didn't have room in his office so he was taking it to his house.

Both SCU Richard Martin and Quarter Master Donna Andres wrote statements because they assisted me when I requested them check to see if a TV was missing from either evidence or in the SWAT room.
Inv Gregg Kouba and Angela Martinez was asked to write statements because I had found out they had gone to the SWAT building and confronted Inv Alvarado about taking the TV home.

When I originally found out I called and asked to meet with Inv. Kouba in the parking lot. We met and I asked Inv. Kouba if he had confronted Rick about the TV and he said yes. I asked him why and he thought I was joking with him. I told Inv. Kouba I was not joking because I was working an investigation involving Inv. Alvarado and the TV.

Inv. Kouba continued to tell me this was a sick joke to be playing on him. I explained to Inv. Kouba we can joke about things but I don't joke about internal investigations. I told him if he didn't believe me go talk to the Sheriff since he was aware I was looking into this.

Inv. Kouba wrote he met with Jenni Wright at the Hope Center on 02/20/2018 and she mentioned the TV to him. He wrote she also mentioned her desire to come back to the Sheriff's Office as an investigator.

Inv. Kouba wrote Jenni had actually confronted Inv Alvarado twice. The second time was with Inv Angela Martinez being present.

Inv. Kouba wrote he did confront Inv. Alvarado about the TV and he did not believe Inv. Alvarado had committed any type of offense. (See attached memo)

Inv. Martinez wrote she was present for the conversations with Inv Alvarado and Jenni Wright. Inv Martinez wrote she did not feel Inv. Alvarado had taken the TV to deprive the county of its property. She did write they agreed it was not the best place to store the TV but it had already happened. (See attached memo)

Inv Roman Goodwine wrote in his statement he remembers the TV being a flat screen and in Inv. Alvarado's office. Inv. Goodwine wrote Inv Kouba and him discussed that he had heard the TV might be at Inv. Alvarado's house.

Inv. Goodwine was not present for the conversation with Inv Alvarado. (See attached memo).

Inv. Dan Boots wrote out his statement at my request because I had heard he was present at the SWAT building when a discussion was held about the TV. Inv. Boots had been out of the country and was not aware of the TV situation.

The TV situation was first brought up when they were told by Capt. Canfield they could take some items from the Woodhouse and use them in the SWAT building. Inv. Boots wrote Inv Alvarado said he was taking anything from anywhere. Someone made a comet about the TV and he asked what they were talking about. Inv. Boots said Inv Alvarado walked away and said don't even get me started.

Later a comment was made jokingly about not letting Inv Alvarado use the tools because he would steal them. Again Inv Boots asked what was going on and Inv. Alvarado had a discussion with everyone present except for Deputy Mark Flores.

Inv. Alvarado explained to the group he was being accused of taking the TV home that was given to SWAT team and was using it. Inv Alvarado told them the TV was hanging on the wall of his garage. Inv Alvarado explained he didn't want to leave the TV in the SWAT room due the storm damage so he took it home.

Inv. Boots also wrote later that someone made a joke about the TV being on the wall and Inv. Alvarado laughed but stated he didn't mean for it to look like had stole the TV. He said he figured he would use it for the time being and when they secured the SWAT building he would bring it back and this is what he told the Chief and Sheriff.

Inv Boots wrote the jokes continued throughout the day about not letting Inv Alvarado use the tools. Inv Boots wrote he had not been to Inv Alvarado's house and had not seen the TV in question.

On 04/11/2018 at 07:35 Sgt Jason Boyd, VCSO interdiction, came to my office so I could speak to him about the internal. I asked Sgt. Boyd if he was aware of the investigation and he said yes. I asked if he knew Inv. Alvarado had taken the TV home and he said yes. I asked if he knew it was mounted and he said no.

I asked Sgt. Boyd about the conversations held at the SWAT building and he said he doesn't remember the conversation. I asked if he remembered the comments about Inv Alvarado taking tools to his house since he had taken the TV and he said no.

I asked if he felt it was right for Inv. Alvarado to take the TV home and he said he didn't believe Inv Alvarado did it maliciously. He felt it was just a bad decision. Sgt. Boyd went on to say he had faith in Inv Alvarado because they are on the SWAT team together and he has to trust Inv Alvarado with his life. He said Inv Alvarado has not done anything to make him doubt his trust worthiness.

Sgt. Boyd did not see the TV at Inv Alvarado's home. I ended the interview with Sgt Boyd and he left my office.

On 04/11/2018 I spoke to Inv Dan Boots and he told me we would not be able to download Inv Alvarado's original work phone due to the damage that had been done to it. He did say we could have the phone repaired and then download it. I told him I didn't think it would be necessary at this time.

On 04/12/2018 at or about 14:30 Cpl. James Monroy came to my office at my request. I explained to Cpl Monroy I was conducting an investigation into a TV that was taken from the VCSO SWAT room.

I asked Cpl. Monroy if he knew Inv Alvarado had taken a TV home and he said not until they were working on the SWAT building. He said Investigators A. Martinez and G. Kouba came over and spoke to Inv Alvarado.

I asked Cpl. Monroy if some jokes were made about Inv Alvarado taking their tools to his house and he said yes. He said it wasn't appropriate but they did it.

I asked if he knew the TV was taken to Inv Alvarado's house and mounted on the wall and he said no.

I ended the interview and Cpl Monroy left my office.

On 04/24/2018 at 10:45 Inv Rick Alvarado came to my office and I interviewed him about this incident. I asked Inv Alvarado if he took the TV home and he said yes. He told me he took it home for storage since the SWAT room had been damaged during the hurricane, flooded and renovations were going to be conducted.

I asked if he had mounted and used the TV and he said no. He said he had kept it in the garage next to all his other SWAT gear that has been issued to him. He told me his mother moved in post hurricane and this is why he kept it in the garage in its original box.

Inv. Alvarado said his intention was to bring the TV back when the new SWAT office was renovated.
I asked when he brought the TV back and he said in February when Inv G Kouba and A Martinez came and talked to him at the new SWAT location.

I asked if he had permission to take it home and he said no. He did say it was mentioned in CID when Tracy Marbach asked him if they could use it in CID for everyone. Inv Alvarado said he told them the TV was at his house stored and once the SWAT building was finished he was bringing it back for SWAT use.

I asked Inv Alvarado if this was the best choice for storage and he said no and understood why there was an investigation. He said his intent was not to keep the TV just store it until renovations were finished.

I ended the interview and Inv Alvarado left my office.

On Wednesday, March 7, 2018 I was contacted by Captain Charles Williamson in person and asked to provide a statement about a TV I observed Investigator Rick Alvarado removing from the Victoria County Sheriff's Office.

During Hurricane Harvey (August 2017) I was working in dispatch to assist. After working dispatch during the day, I was in CID and there was a TV that was brought over for us to watch movies on. I believe it was brought over from the building across the street, where SWAT, Highway Interdiction, etc. is housed.

After the hurricane I saw the TV in a box in Investigator Rick Alvarado's office. Within the last couple months, I was working in dispatch on the weekend during the day and I saw Rick Alvarado walk out the side door with the TV in a box. I don't remember exactly when it was. A couple of weeks later I saw Rick Alvarado in person and asked him about the TV he walked out of the Victoria County Sheriff's Office with, and he said something like there wasn't room for it in his office. I joked with him about it and asked if he hung it up at his house and he said no.

I have been instructed to write this memo concerning a flat screen television that was in Investigator Rick Alvarado's office and what I heard discussed about it.

Around the end of February, Greg Kouba told me that he heard a story about Rick Alvarado and a flat screen TV that had been in Alvarado's office. Kouba told me that the TV might be at Alvarado's house. We discussed it and tried to remember where the TV came from. I texted Will Franklin to see if he had heard anything about it or remembered the TV. None of us knew where the TV had originated from.

I remember a flat screen TV being in CID around the time of Hurricane Harvey as it was set up in CID to watch movies. After the hurricane I recall it was in a box in Alvarado's office. I don't recall when it left his office.

A week later, Angie Martinez and Greg Kouba were in my office discussing the TV issue and they decided to confront Alvarado with what they had heard. They met with Alvarado and discussed the issue. Kouba and Martinez did not know if an internal affairs investigation was ongoing. Shortly after this, I was then called by Capt. Charles Williamson and told that there was an active internal affairs investigation into this matter and no longer discuss it with those involved.

Date: March 19, 2018	Re: Internal Investigation

Captain,

As per your request this memo will recount the conversations amongst the SWAT team members on Monday, March 12th, 2018, to the best of my memory. I am a member of the SWAT team and intend to cooperate with this investigation fully as my credibility depends on it.

Last Monday I arrived at the SWAT Fire House shortly after 0800. I went upstairs and met with the team members, Jason Boyd, James Monroy, Mark Flores, Dale Fowler and Alfred Garza. Rick Alvarado arrived a short time later and we began going over repairs that had been done and what we would be working on. We went downstairs and continued this.

We were talking about shelving and furniture when James Monroy said he talked to Captain Canfield and she said we could take things from the Woodhouse to use in the SWAT House. I believe this was the first reference to the TV that Rick had at his house. Rick said something to the effect of I'm not taking anything from anywhere. Someone said something about a TV and I didn't know what they were talking about and asked what they were talking about. Rick said don't even get me started on that and walked off.

We continued making our work game plan and someone made a joke about not letting Rick have a hammer or another tool because he would steal it. Again I asked what that was about. This time Rick explained it to me with the group involved, minus Mark who was off working on a piece of broken glass.

Rick said he was being accused of taking a TV that was given to the SWAT team to his house and using it. He said it was hanging on the wall in his garage when someone confronted him about it. I asked who saw it there and he did not know. He said it was the one that had been in his office after the hurricane and he got tired of it being in the way. He said the damage to the old SWAT room made him not want to put a new TV in that basement, so he took it to his house to store. He said he was under an internal investigation but seemed to be trying to remain in good spirits about it.

Someone made a joke about it being on his wall and although he laughed, he said he didn't mean for it to appear like he stole it. He figured he would use it for the time being and when we secured the SWAT building he would bring it back. He said this is what he told the Chief and Sheriff. Dale said "you did talk to the Sheriff?" Rick said yes and he told them he wasn't trying to steal it. Rick said he was told by them not to worry about it. The conversation went on amongst the group as we began to work and pick up furniture from the Woodhouse. Dale decided to leave for his office before we went there. The general consensus became that he didn't commit a theft because he didn't intend to steal the TV. I left the group to go help Mark with the windows and I don't know if the conversation continued.

As will happen with a team that is close there were jokes made about Rick taking things throughout the rest of the day. I even made one about him taking a tool or something and hanging it in his garage. I spent most of the day working with Mark other than when we would all be around the tool table.

I have never been to Rick's house nor have I ever seen the TV on his garage wall. We don't hangout or do things together outside work. I don't know his intentions other than what he said. I know other employees have been fired for the same type of circumstances because it's against Office policy. This is the best recollection I have of that day's conversations.

On Tuesday February 27th I was called in to speak with Inv. Greg Kouba and Inv. Roman Goodwine. Inv. Kouba indicated that something had been bothering him and he wished to talk to me about it. I proceeded to sit down and he told me that a bit ago he was at the Hope Center talking to Jenni Wright and she mentioned to him that Inv. Rick Alvarado had come to the office and taken a TV home, she saw this when she was working in disptach. Wright tells Inv. Kouba that she asked him about it and he said he was taking it to his house. She then tells Inv. Kouba that I knew about it because she confronted Inv. Alvarado about it while I was present. I initially could not recall what or when he or she were talking about. He explains what Wright told him and then I vaguely recall this conversation. I think that we, Inv. Alvarado, Wright, and myself were in Inv. Alvarado's office at the time and Wright asked him something about a TV. I think that Inv. Alvarado responded that the TV was at his house in the game room or something to that affect. This was apparently what she was talking about.

Inv. Kouba was obviously bothered by Wright telling him this information and believed that she had an ulterior motive for this information she was sharing with him. Inv. Kouba continued to say that he knows she would like to return to work for this agency and if Inv. Alvarado was no longer in the picture this would be easier for her to do. Inv. Kouba asked if I thought she had ill intent, I advised that I would hope that she did not. He then asked what I thought about telling Inv. Alvarado about her sharing this information with him and that if he did in fact have the TV at his residence to return it because she is attempting to use this to her advantage. I told him that if he in fact thought this was her intention that I had no problem going with him to discuss this with Inv. Alvarado.

Inv. Kouba and I walked to the new SWAT building and met with Inv. Alvarado outside. Inv. Kouba explained that he heard he had taken a TV to his house, for whatever reason, and didn't know if this was true but if so he might want to bring it to the office because someone is talking about it and possibly trying to use this as leverage to get him in trouble. Inv. Alvarado stated that he did have the TV at his house, he got it out of his office from after the Hurricane because the old SWAT room had flooded and he didn't have anywhere else to store it while working on the new SWAT building and he took it to his house. Inv. Kouba recommended that he bring it back to the office, he indicated he would do so this date.

Inv. Kouba and I then spoke afterwards and he felt relieved about mentioning this to him and neither of us felt he took the TV home for his own personal use or for the purpose to deprive the county of any property. We agreed it was probably not the best place to store the TV however this was already done. Inv. Kouba still felt that it was mentioned to him by Wright because she was looking to take his job.

I received a phone call from Capt. Williamson a little later informing me that there was an internal investigation that he was working about Inv. Alvarado having the TV at his residence and I could not discuss this anymore with Inv. Alvarado. I told him I would not discuss the TV any further with him.

I was contacted in person this date by Capt. Williamson and told to write a memo for him about this matter.

To: Captain Charles Williamson	From: Richard Martin
Date: 03-08-2018	Re: Flat Screen TV

On or about February 22nd 2018 I, Investigator Richard Martin was contacted by Captain Charles Williamson regarding seized items from [redacted], specifically several flat screen television sets.

Captain Williamson directed my attention to an event that took place during Hurricane Harvey when a television set was used in CID to watch a boxing match one night after work. I do recall the event but do not know where the television had come from, or its current whereabouts. I was then asked to inventory all television sets that were seized in conjunction with that case.

I then printed the evidence log, and compared it to the TV's that were reposited in evidence. All were accounted for. After this was completed I told Captain Williamson that I would ask former VCSO employee Quinton Moses if he knew where the TV had come from next time I spoke with him.

On or about March 1st, 2018 I spoke with Moses on the telephone. During our conversation I asked him about the TV. Moses said that Rick Alvarado had gotten the TV from the Sheriff's Office but did not know from where. This information was then relayed to Captain Williamson.

To: Sheriff T. Michael O'Connor	From: Inv. Greg J Kouba
Date: March 7, 2018	Re: Incident: Rick Alvarado

On Monday, 2/20/2018, I went to the Hope Child Advocacy Center to observe an interview in a case I was assigned to investigate. Upon completion of the interview, the CAC caseworker advised me that she would make a DVD copy of the interview and provide it to me. She stated that it would take a few minutes to complete the DVD, so I told her that I would go downstairs and smoke on the front porch until she finished making it. I walked outside and was immediately joined by Jenni Wright who also works at the Hope Center.

I know Jenni Wright professionally and have knowledge that she is a peace officer, a former investigator and a current part time employee of the Victoria County SO. Other than listed, I have no other professional or personal relationship with her. For approximately fifteen minutes, I engaged in conversation with Ms. Wright outside of the Hope Center. During the conversation, we talked about her desire to come back to work at the Sheriff's office in investigations. It was evident that she was very knowledgeable in the day to day operations and "goings on" at the office.

Wright began to tell to me that while she was working her part-time job as a dispatcher, that she saw Inv. Rick Alvarado come to the Sheriff's Office on a Saturday and leave with a TV that had been in his office. In listening to her, I got the impression that this happened some time ago, not recently. She went on to tell me that he had brought the TV to the Sheriff's Office during the Hurricane Harvey storm and had it set up in the CID for everyone to watch. I was familiar with that incident and remember the TV sitting boxed up in his office afterward.

Wright went on to say that she confronted Alvarado about him taking the TV and asked what he was going to do with it. She said that he told her that it was in his way in his office and that he was taking it home. Wright stated that at some later point in time, she confronted Alvarado a second time, this time in front of Inv. Angie Martinez about him taking the TV home.

I commented that I didn't think it sounded right and that I didn't know why he would have taken it home when it could have been stored at the Sheriff's Office somewhere. I said that if that were true, he could get himself into a bind. We talked about him seeking a promotion or transfer to Special Crimes and how this incident could affect his future with the agency. Wright said that if Rick was gone, then she could come back (to investigations).

Wright made no mention to me that she suspected Alvarado had committed any type of criminal offense and this conversation was not taken as a "report" by me. In fact, I questioned her motive in my mind as to why she was telling me about it. I did wonder what his intentions were and what the circumstances were surrounding the removal of the TV from the office. Upon receiving the DVD copy, I left the Hope Center and returned to the sheriff's office. With this fresh on my mind, I decided to speak with Inv. Roman Goodwine about the information I just received.

I explained to him what I had just learned and we discussed the possibilities that could result from the information. I also expressed to Goodwine, my concern and suspicions as to her possible motive in telling me. I wondered why she would have brought this up to me when she has many long-standing personal and professional relationships at the VCSO. I'm sure that she is also familiar with the procedures in reporting alleged acts of misconduct, policy violations and/or criminal violations committed by employees. Again, I continued to question her motive.

Inv. Goodwine and I spoke extensively about this incident over the next several days. We wondered if there was some plausible reason as to why Inv. Alvarado would have taken this TV home. Furthermore, we discussed whether or not we should say something to him about it or not. Neither of us had any evidence to suspect a criminal offense had occurred, a policy violation or just a lapse in judgment.

This information weighed heavily on my mind and I wrestled with what action, if any that I might take. On Tuesday, 2/27/2018, Goodwine and I talked about it again in his office. We were not aware of any internal investigation that may have been initiated. I brought up the idea to ask Inv. Martinez about the incident and she was called into the office where we discussed it further.

The decision was made for me and Inv. Martinez to go see Alvarado and ask him about the TV and if he had it. We met with Alvarado at the old central fire station where members of the SWAT team were working. We went outside of the building and spoke to him privately. I informed him that there was some talk going around about him taking a TV from the sheriff's office and taking it home, and that if he did, he probably should bring it back before he gets himself in a bind. Alvarado replied okay, I'll bring it back tonight. He didn't ask me how I came across the information and I didn't volunteer it, but he knew. Martinez and I then returned to the Sheriff's Office.

About twenty minutes later, while Inv. Goodwine and I were in the sally port speaking with Lt. Meyer, I received a call on my cell phone from Captain Charles Williamson. He asked where I was and said that he needed to speak with me by his Tahoe in the parking lot. I walked out to the parking lot and met with him. As he approached me, he was very direct and began pointing his finger at me as he informed me "I need a statement from you, a statement from Roman and a statement from Angie". He went on to say that there was going to be a criminal investigation and that an IA had already been started. He informed me that Rick Alvarado had committed a theft involving the TV. He said that I needed to write a statement about my involvement in this incident.

My first thought was that Williamson was part of a prank and that everyone else was involved. I did not believe him and expressed that to him several times. Williamson made several attempts to convince me that it was true. He advised me that he had already had (Inv.) Richard Martin go over to the SWAT building and do an inventory of items taken in the "tire search warrant" to see if that TV had come out of that case.

At this point, I explained to him how I came into the information and that I did not know of any current criminal investigation or IA that may have been initiated. He informed me that it was reported to him by another officer and that the Sheriff had been notified and he had instructed him to investigate it. Williamson told me that I could go talk to the Sheriff if I didn't believe him. I then went back into my office. Williamson called me back on my cell phone and again discussed this issue and how it began. I told him that I was still in disbelief and would go to the Sheriff to verify the information.

I walked into the Sheriff's office and asked to speak with him. I explained to him what had just transpired with Captain Williamson and he confirmed that there was an actual complaint received and that Captain Williamson was investigating the incident. I asked the Sheriff if I could explain what had transpired and how I came into the information I had received from Ms. Wright. He listened to my explanation. I explained to him how I wrestled with the information over the course of the week and how I was suspect of her motive behind making the allegations against Alvarado. I advised him that I was trying to decide if this was just gossip or a co-workers lapse in judgment.

On my way home, I received another call from Captain Williamson. During that call, he discussed some of the details of the investigation with me. At one point, he implied to me that that "someone should just tell Rick he needs to resign". He said that he couldn't "because I'm a supervisor", "but someone should tell him". I interpreted that statement as if he was referring to me and I responded, "I'm not telling him that". Williamson repeated, "Well someone needs to".

I have known and worked with Inv. Rick Alvarado during my time here with VCSO. During this time, I have never suspected that he would be involved in any act of theft or misappropriation of property. Nothing in this memo suggests by evidence or otherwise that I believe he committed any such criminal offense as alleged by Captain Williamson or whomever reported this. If his intention was to conceal the fact, he simply could have said that he was taking the TV back to the SWAT room. Instead, he was honest.

What am I not supposed to talk about? I'm not under an official I.A. No one informed me if I did. Any harm by what? I don't know who told who about what and I really don't care. The only thing that upset me was that someone would question my integrity. Plus why would the swat commander steal a swat tv that would be stealing from myself which wouldn't make since. And also I'm not mad at you and never was. You knew about that since October so why 5 months later would it be an issue
